- The Viennese for a sing agency Transport—und Speditionskontor Juschmeschtrans, 8 Wohllebengasse, Vienna IV, is an Austro-Soviet entermise and is registered as such with the Austrian official Record of Compredal Firms. Austrian authorities, however, have no control of, or influence on Juschmeschtrans. This firm is in charge of the non-military forwarding business between Austria on one side and the USSR and her satellites on the other side. It handles both goods originating from Austria and transit goods going through Austria. East-bound goods of Western origin are in some cases imported to Austria by Western forwarding agencies or by the Austrian agency Schenker & Co. (see Section III of this report).
- History of Juschmaschtrans. Juschmaschtrans was founded by the Soviet authorities in 1945. Their original intention was to establish this firm in Ducharest (Rumania), but eventually preference was riven to Vienna because of the rore advantageous geographical situation of this city. Forever, the Russians had occurred the property of Schenker & Co., a world-remound forwarding aspency, in the Soviet sector of Vienna and the Soviet Zone of Austria, and therefore, hope to be able to accurre at least a part of this firm's western clientele. Juschmaschtrans was originally only in charge of transporting goods needed by the Soviet Arry, but later changed over to civilian forwarding business leaving military transports to the - Personnel The permanent personnel arounted to almost 176 persons by the end of April 1953. As far as is known only the Coneral Languer, the Financial Hanager, and the chief of the garage are Soviet nationals. Since the spring of 1953 the practice has been established of hiring unemployed Austrians for short-time labor in cases of mood, especially for labor in the Juschmaschtrans warehouses (locding and unloading of railroad cars and rivercraft, etc.). Richard Hann of the Tayroll Section is in charge of hiring and paying such personnel.
